Bedrinks Gold

Amino Acid for Collagen Enhancer

Ingestion collagen peptide has been proven to increase collagen underneath the skin, improve bone density, strengthen hair and nails, improve joint flexibility, strengthen blood vessels, and improve liver function. When we ingest collagen peptides, they would be digested by peptidase to become amino acid precursors for collagen synthesis.

Bedrinks Gold comprises of variety of amino acids which are the main components of collagen protein, anti-oxidant minerals, and skin vitamins. It has been formulated as a cocoa flavor drink without any sugar and animal components.

L-Proline : L-Proline is one of the main components in collagen protein. In people who do not get enough protein in daily life or vegetarians, they may not get enough L-proline to synthesize collagen.

vegetarian. Often with a disproportionate amount of proline production of collagen in the body. Supplement with L-proline could improve the collagen production in the body. L-proline is able to penetrate to the bone and cartilage to create a structure of bone and cartilage and could be used to treat arthritis.

L-Glycine : L-Glycine is one of the main components in collagen protein. It has a special quality as an anti-inflammatory agent and also stimulates the production of neurotransmitters essential for brain function. L-Glycine slows the breakdown of muscles, protects and stimulates the body's immune system. The amino acid could directly penetrate blood brain barrier which has the effects of making better mood, reducing stress, and improving memory.

L-Alanine : L-Alanine is one of the main components in collagen protein. It has a special quality in controlling blood sugar level which prevents hypoglycemia. It could provide quick energy by stimulating the release of sugar into blood stream. L- alanine enhances immune system, prevents kidney stones, and stimulates muscle building.

Zinc AAC, Copper AAC, Manganese AAC : Three minerals which are essential components of enzyme SOD, a high efficiency antioxidant in our cells. SOD slows down degeneration of the cell.

Iron AAC : The Main mineral in the process of creating hemoglobin, the key component of red blood cells. It helps transporting oxygen to our brain and other parts of our body.

D-Biotin : Strength hair and nail. Prevent hair loss.
